

Note taking app debugging documentation

- 1. First one is the form is sending data to the server through request body.so we have to have make post request and we have to use method= "post".
- 2. In home route we have to handle post request.
- 3. While handling post request in order to read data from request body we have use request.form[name of attribute].
- 4. These are the bugs I have find after fixing these bugs the application worked well..
